

NIGHT NEWS NEW DISCOVERY!

Professor Guab has created a new formula. She is planning on presenting it to King Smightly, King Bruce and Queen Evelyn today!

I am lucky enough to be able to interview the now very famous Professor Guab after her successful demonstration of her formula at the castle. Except now her formula is known as Matrioficity. "My amazing discovery has a secret recipe of course, only given to the highly trusted. It's powers might be small but certainly have a certain oomph to them." She explained. "At the demonstration I proved that it could make a good if small bomb. But I have chemically changed it so it is nothing more than a party popper! My experiments also show that it has the ability to turn things invisible!" Quite amazing indeed!

Kee: Tonight we have simple football.

Ko: YAY! A nice non-hazardous game unlike last time's. . .

Kee: Indeed. Our last football match ended in the referee getting clubbed over the head and both the teams almost murdering each other!

Ko: Lets hope it doesn't go the same way this time. Hopefully not with the bars on the pitch.

Kee: Yeah. We have several referees this time, taking it in turns just in case.

Ko: So do you think you can beat them boys?

Team: Yeah!

Ko: This game will hopefully be a lot less barbaric than last time.

Leo: Yeah. Once we went against the blue bananas but they lost easily after a few hours.

Louie: We got them then and we'll get them now.

Ko: Pardon?

Sam: Well. . .the idiots have asked for a rematch.

Kee: I see.

Ko: OK. Les interview the Blue Bananas!

Kee: so guys, what do you think is going to happen out there?

Dylie: Oh we'll probably lose like we did last time. . .

Robin: Don't be silly Dylie! Of course we're going to win.

Kee: Do you think it will be a fair match guys?

Robin: Well, after the last game I'm glad they've been taking precautions so it should be fine.

Ko: Great to hear!

Kee: Now, lets sit back and watch!
